JURY BLAMES ROAD CONDITION IN FATAL CRASH

Giving highway conditions as the chief cause of a fatal accident which occurred on the Biglerville road a mile north of here the afternoon of November 13, a coroner's jury recommended that the state Department of Highways "take the necessary measures to improve this hazard to traffic."

During the inquest, two state policemen testified that the curve at the intersection of the Gettysburg-Biglerville highway with the old Carlisle road has been the subject of frequent complaints at the Gettysburg substation. The officers described the curve as "very slippery when wet" and a "dangerous spot."

The recommendation for highway improvement was included in the verdict rendered at the conclusion of the inquest into the death of Louis James Warmington, 26, Lackawanna, N. Y., who was killed instantly when the cycle he and Russell D. Tillotson, 22, Gardenville, N. Y. were riding, skidded on the slick, wet road and crashed into the front of the car of W. Mark Johns, Mummasburg merchant and rural mail carrier.

Driver's Identity Uncertain
Tillotson, who was critically injured in the crash and has been charged by state police with involuntary manslaughter, testified without recollections of the accident and was not able to make a definite statement as to who was operating the cycle when it crashed.

The jury held there was no evidence to prove whether Warmington or Tillotson was driving. The motorcycle belonged to Tillotson and he stated to Private George Ackerson, who investigated, that it was likely he had been driving although both could operate the vehicle and had planned to divide the driving assignment on their trip to Florida. Dr. R. W. Gifford, Warner hospital surgeon, was the first witness. He described Tillotson's injuries as including a depressed fracture of the skull and a severe shoulder injury. Except for impaired use of his left arm, Tillotson has fully recovered. Dr. Gifford said, although he was unconscious for three days and a patient for 24 days.

Going "Pretty Fast"
Pvt. James Walsh of the state police said the motorcycle passed him two miles north of town a short time before the accident and estimated its speed at 75 to 80 miles an hour. Walsh, who was off duty and in his own auto at the time, said the cycle skidded slightly at Grandview Terrace as it went out of his sight. He came upon the scene of the crash.

UN ASSEMBLY TO WIND UP SESSION
Paris, Dec. 11 (AP)—The United Nations General Assembly winds up tonight a 12-week session in which it has called on peoples of the world to live in peace, but offered little to enforce peace.

The assembly cooled diplomatic fevers over three of the world's trouble spots, Palestine, Berlin and Greece. But it found no real cure. It urged nations to live without wars, without fears of atomic disaster and huge armies, but gave no final clue on how these things could be achieved.

The assembly passed last night, over bitter Russian opposition, a world declaration of human rights proclaiming freedom and equality for all. The declaration has only moral authority, at least until the next regular assembly in September, 1949.

To give it teeth, a human rights covenant is proposed. This covenant, to be drafted before the September meeting, would obligate nations which sign the declaration to respect individual rights under pain of sanctions.

The vote on the declaration was 48 to 0. Russia and her five satellites abstained from voting. They were joined by South Africa and Saudi Arabia.

WILL RELEASE RED SPY RING SECRET PAPERS

Washington, Dec. 11 (AP)—Congressional investigators prepared today to release a dozen of the secret papers which, they claim, prove that a Red spy ring operated in the State Department a decade ago.

Members of the House un-American activities committee say that while the documents may appear innocent enough now, they mention military and diplomatic secrets which once would have been invaluable to Russia.

And they say the documents—scheduled for release tonight—would have enabled the Soviets to crack the codes in which American diplomatic messages were sent.

Mrs. Hiss Involved

The 10-year-old papers came from former Communist Agent Whittaker Chambers, who last week brought them out of a pumpkin shell hiding place on his nearby Maryland farm.

Chambers has testified under oath that he got some papers for relay to Moscow from Alger Hiss and Henry Julian Wadleigh, former State Department officials. He has testified, too, that Mrs. Hiss copied some of the originals on a typewriter.

The committee's acting chairman, Rept. Mundt (R-S.D.), told reporters investigators have unearthed some "very good clues" about a typewriter. He said they have a good chance of locating some letters which would show whether they came from the same machine that produced copies of State Department papers.

The committee set its next meeting for Monday noon. Whether it will be open or closed or if there will be any witnesses, was not known.

Plays Dominoes On 100th Birthday; Likes Jokes, Friends

Pittsburgh, Dec. 11 (AP)—Mrs. Martha Glover played dominoes last night on her 100th birthday—happily unaware of a death that would have ruined the occasion.

Last year the little old lady and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Sarah Glover, jointly celebrated their 99th birthdays. Jokingly, they made a friendly wager to outlive each other.

Mrs. Sarah Glover died last July 29—but her sister-in-law hasn't been told. She thinks her companion is ill.

Last night the centenarian admired her cake and the many birthday cards she received. But what delighted her most was the money sent by friends. For years, the little old lady has asked for money instead of gifts on her birthday and Christmas.

Wants Her Teeth

Like the little girl in the popular song all six-year-old Nancy Lee Healey wants for Christmas in South Bend, Ind., are her two front teeth. A friend gave her a copy of the song to practice for a forthcoming visit with Santa. (AP Wirephoto)

64 BIRTHS AND 13 DEATHS IN NOVEMBER HERE

There were 33 male and 31 female births in Gettysburg during November, and eight male deaths and five female deaths, according to Ralph C. Geiselman, registrar of vital statistics.

There were 65 births and 16 deaths in Mr. Geiselman's district, comprising Gettysburg and Cumberland, Straban, Freedom and Highland townships.

Cumberland township had no births during November, and two male deaths. Straban township reported one male birth and one male death. There were no births nor deaths in Freedom and Highland townships.

The total for the 11 months of 1948, up to December 1, was 671 births and 161 deaths. Gettysburg had 335 male births and 321 female births, and 79 male deaths and 71 female deaths.

Increase Over 1947

In November, 1947, there were 67 births and 12 deaths, and for the first 11 months of 1947, there were 662 births and 167 deaths. In Gettysburg the first 11 months last year, there were 358 male births, and 292 female births, and 67 male and 58 female deaths.

The greatest number of births thus far this year was in September, 72, and the lowest month was February, 45. Largest number of deaths was in March, 25, and January was the lowest, 13.

Last year, September and April were tied in births, with 71 each. The lowest month was January, 45. Lowest number of deaths last year was in September, 8; highest number was in July, 20.

There were nine more births and 24 more deaths this year in the first 11 months than for the same period last year.

"Know your government; know the issues before it; keep up on foreign problems; be tolerant of other races and religions; practice your own religion; read the newspapers and magazines critically; use your vote; follow closely your elected representatives; join civic organizations, and be Americans first."

The speaker said Americans are suffering from two great diseases, nervous tension and negative thinking, when they ought to be relaxed. "We are achieving high levels in life, but when we achieve these levels we live at low levels," he said. "Democracy has its weaknesses and defects, but we have what it takes to correct them."

GIRL STABBED 37 TIMES BY A BRUTAL KILLER

Pittsburgh, Dec. 11 (AP)—Police said they had arrested a 28-year-old musician today for questioning in the stab-slaying of Carol Lee Kensinger, 12, last night.

Pittsburgh, Dec. 11 (AP)—A 12-year-old girl was found lying in a pool of blood with 37 stab wounds late last night in a slaying police termed "most mystifying."

Homicide Detective James Kelly identified the victim as blonde Carol Lee Kensinger, one of three children of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kensinger of Bushong, an East Pittsburgh suburb.

Deputy Coroner Stanley Juzenski, after a preliminary examination, said the "deed could only have been performed by an adult."

"There is no question in my mind," said Kelly, "that it was done by a sex maniac. However, we don't have a single clue to go on other than the poor little girl was attacked in such brutal fashion."

Kelly said the parents told him they discovered their daughter's body shortly before last midnight when they returned home from bowling. The other Kensinger children were not at home at the time of the tragedy.

Used Butcher Knife
Police believe the girl was stabbed with a butcher knife found in the kitchen of the home near a pool of blood. A trail of blood led from the kitchen to the telephone in the dining room, indicating the child had attempted to make a call before she died.

Kelly said the girl was fully clothed with the exception of shoes and stockings and that a preliminary investigation did not show any evidence of assault.

"It is a most mystifying case," the detective said. "So far we do not have any clues and we are pursuing our investigation as rapidly as possible."

DUTCH BREAK NEGOTIATIONS

The Hague, Dec. 11 (AP)—The Netherlands announced today breaking off of United Nations-sponsored negotiations with the Indonesian republic and said it plans to proceed with the formation of an interim government for the other areas of Indonesia.

The Dutch had proposed to set up a federal interim republic for all Indonesia by the end of this month. In Batavia the Indonesian news agency Antara yesterday quoted an Indonesian republican communiqué as warning that the formation of an interim government of Indonesia without the republic would result in disaster.

The Dutch delegation in Batavia has advised the U.N. good offices committee that further talks with the republic are useless unless the Jogjakarta government radically alters its viewpoint, a communiqué stated.

Accordingly, it declared, the Netherlands will proceed with the institution of an interim government for the so-called "federal territories," said to include two-thirds of the territory of the islands.

To Need Million Teachers In U.S.

Harrisburg, Dec. 11 (AP)—A million elementary school teachers will be needed in the nation's schools in the next ten years at the rate of 100,000 a year.

C. O. Williams, director of extension education at the Pennsylvania State college, made this estimate in a speech here yesterday before a joint meeting of the Pennsylvania State Education Association.

Williams at the same time blamed the present elementary teacher shortage on what he termed "a sharp upturn in the birth rate."

The two-day meeting ends today with an address scheduled by Ralph McDonald, executive secretary of the National Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards.

In another talk yesterday, Dr. Thomas P. North, dean of instruction at Bloomsburg State Teachers' college, described teachers as "persons with a mission—to bring up a better generation of youth."

Noted Comedian Is In Serious Condition

New York, Dec. 11 (AP)—Willie Howard, 65-year-old comedian who for half a century has played roles on vaudeville and musical comedy stages, is in New York city's polyclinic hospital with an undisclosed illness.

Friends of the noted comedian said his condition was serious.

Howard recently has been on tour in a new musical review, "Along Fifth Avenue," which is scheduled for a Broadway premiere soon.

His illness has forced the producers to summon Jackie Gleason and other comedians as possible replacements.

The comedian's physician, Dr. Elvin Katz, declined to comment on Howard's condition.

YANK KILLED IN AIRLIFT CRASH

Frankfurt, Germany, Dec. 11 (AP)—A U. S. C-54 navy airlift plane, returning from Berlin, crashed in the night near Bad Homburg and killed a crew member, one of six persons aboard. Four others, including a U. S. Air Force hostess were injured.

The accident occurred in the fog-shrouded Taunus mountains. The hostess, Diana Day of San Francisco, escaped with slight injuries. The crash threw her clear of the plane.

"I can't understand it," said Navy Lt. Joseph Norris of Lexington, N. C., the pilot. "We were cruising at 1,000 feet, according to instruments. The radio seemed to be blacked out. The weather was foggy, but not too bad."

Norris, who was slightly hurt, searched the plane after the crash and found his engineer dead.

Lt. Frank T. Heffernan, The Bronx, N. Y., escaped injury. He said the crash came without a warning.

BEVIN PREDICTS CLOSER TIES IN WESTERN WORLD

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin's prediction in Parliament that the western nations one day will have a common budget and defense is a striking commentary on the trend of our time, which most certainly is towards a division of the globe into worlds—one democratic and the other bolshevist.

Perhaps Mr. Bevin wouldn't speak so bluntly as to state the case in terms of "two worlds," when hopes of peace-minded people center on "one world." However, the implication is there and you can't evade it any more than you could dodge an earthquake.

The foreign secretary said that the north Atlantic pact (involving a military alliance) now being considered in Washington should let the United States and western Europe divide some of the burdens of defense. He added:

Concern For U. N.
"I am quite sure that before many years—I make this prophecy—you will find the defense ministers and finance ministers of the western world sitting down discussing a common budget, common cost, and a common method of defense."

Bevin might have gone on to point out that this epochal development has been forced by Moscow's creation of a great Bolshevik bloc which constitutes another world that is engaged in a cold war against the democratic bloc. These blocs are the nuclei of the two worlds which are developing rapidly.

This wretched situation naturally raises the question of how our new peace organization fits into the picture. Of this Bevin remarked succinctly: "The United Nations is giving us very great concern as to whether it is going to face up to grave problems at all."

Can Agree On Nothing
Well, what can we expect? Just as the world is divided into two blocs, so the U. N. is a house divided against itself. While the world remains divided, the U. N. will be divided and incapable of facing up to "grave problems at all" as a unit.

The position of the U. N. is well illustrated by the current fight over the Declaration of Human Rights which finally has been completed after two and a half years of labor. Naturally the Communist Bloc is against the Declaration, which is supported by all the democracies. The Reds are against it because the only human right they believe in is that of becoming a cog in the totalitarian machine.

If the peace body can't agree on a Declaration of Human Rights, what in the name of common sense can they agree on? The answer is "nothing."

Negotiations regarding the proposed military alliance between the U. S. A. and western Europe were resumed in Washington yesterday. American Undersecretary of State Lovett met with representatives of Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg and Canada. The alliance and the Marshall Plan would complement each other, making a powerful military-economic team for defense and rehabilitation.

ALLIED ACTION DEALS SEVERE BLOW TO REDS

Berlin, Dec. 11 (AP)—Communists today admitted severe economic losses in eastern Germany from the Allied counter-blockade as they acted to plug loopholes in the Soviet barrier around western Berlin.

The minister president of Soviet-occupied Saxony reported four important industries had fallen far short of meeting production quotas. He blamed their failure on lack of raw materials from western Germany, as well as a shortage of technicians and overburdened transport.

In Berlin east-west economic warfare reached a new peak of bitterness.

The Soviet-backed economic commission for eastern Germany warned officials in all districts of the zone to beware of concluding contracts with firms in western Berlin.

Six figures in Saxony's textile industry have been sentenced this week to death for violating the Russian trade ban.

The economic commission said German businessmen in the Soviet zone would continue to be held personally responsible.

Pro-western Germans claim there is a joker in the Russian blockade. They say a Soviet-style trading company is being set up by the zone Economic commission to channel a small supply of non-essential goods into the western sectors in return for western marks.

The western marks, these Germans say, are being used by Soviet authorities for black market purposes in western Germany and for sale abroad for hard currency.

ROOKIE KILLS TRUCK DRIVER

Camden, N. J., Dec. 11 (AP)—A rookie policeman with less than three months service was quoted by his superiors today as saying he fatally shot a Philadelphia-employed truck driver in the belief the victim was reaching for a gun.

Arthur Jones, a negro war veteran, said he fired one shot when the victim, Herbert R. Dunkelberger, 40, reached toward a trouser pocket as he stepped from his car after a one-mile police chase.

"I saw something shiny," Jones reported.

The shiny object, police said, was a screw driver, found on the ground beside Dunkelberger's body.

The chase began late last night after Jones and Patrolman John Perry sped in a police car to the home of Mrs. Joseph Sytek in response to her call that some one was trying to break into her home.

Police Captain Edward Carroll reported a man darted from in front of the house and drove away in a car as the police arrived.

They gave chase and the shooting occurred when Dunkelberger came to a sudden stop to avoid collision with a truck.

Two Meet Death In Blazing Wreck

Philadelphia, Dec. 11 (AP)—Two men died and a third was burned seriously in the blazing wreck of an automobile. The car turned over in front of a church after crashing into two poles and two parked cars.

Police said Daniel Claflie, 20, was burned almost beyond recognition after being trapped in the wrecked car yesterday. The other victim, John Garbarino, 28, died in Pennsylvania hospital of third degree burns several hours after the accident.

The third man, William F. Weber, 22, is in Hahnemann hospital with burns of the face and hands. Weber, as well as the two victims, is a Philadelphia resident.

Both parked cars also caught fire. They were unoccupied.

The Rev. Leo A. Hart told police the intense heat from the blazing wreck stymied his efforts to rescue the trapped men.

NEW GROUP MAY PURCHASE PAPER

Philadelphia, Dec. 11 (AP)—Luther Harr, former Philadelphia city treasurer, has announced that a group of Philadelphia businessmen are "very close" to buying the assets of the defunct Philadelphia Record with the intention of publishing a six day tabloid newspaper.

Harr, also former treasurer of the Record company, said, "We are very close to purchasing the assets from the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin."

He declined to name individuals interested in the new publication but the Philadelphia Inquirer said today that Matthew H. McCloskey, Jr., contractor and Democratic political leader, has been approached.

The tabloid, expected to be a morning paper, would not publish before the first of the year even if the deal was completed, Harr said. The Record suspended publication nearly two years ago and its assets were purchased by the Bulletin.

EX-OFFICIAL IS SUMMONED IN SPY PROBE

New York, Dec. 11 (AP)—Another former U. S. official was called for questioning today as a federal grand jury pushed for possible early findings in its spy probe.

William W. Pigman, of Appleton, Wis., former U. S. Bureau of Standards official, is expected to tell his story for the first time in the inquiry. He has announced his intentions to "cooperate."

Other principals in the investigation, including one-time State Department official Alger Hiss, were held under subpoena for today's special session, causing the House un-American Activities committee to cancel a scheduled hearing.

Seek Early Decision
Both Hiss and Pigman, along with Henry J. Wadleigh, another former state department man, have been accused in testimony before the House committee of carrying U. S. secrets to Communist agents. For a while it appeared as if an outright tug-of-war for witnesses between the House committee and the grand jury was developing over the week-end, but the congressional probes yielded the stage.

They originally had subpoenaed Hiss, and his brother, Donald, also once employed in the state department, for appearances in Washington today. Pigman also was under a committee summons.

But after learning that the grand jury wanted the Hiss brothers to remain here for more questioning, Rep. Karl Mundt (R-SD), acting committee chairman called off the committee meeting.

The stepped-up jury sessions gave rise to other reports that the jury is pressing for early decisions. Any indictments by the present jury would have to come before next Wednesday, when its term ends.

One government source said the Hiss-Chambers phase of the jury's inquiry will be "cleaned up" by that time.

SECRECY VEILS DEFENSE TALKS

Washington, Dec. 11 (AP)—A secrecy lid covered the Atlantic Alliance talks today but officials seemed confident the final defense pact will be ready for Senate action before spring.

Negotiations from seven nations are scheduled to get down to brass tacks Monday when the Western European representatives are expected to present their proposals for the historic mutual aid agreement.

The diplomatic parleys, launched last July, were resumed late yesterday after a three-month recess. Their aim is a North Atlantic stronghold linking the United States and Canada to the defense ramparts being set up by the Western European union: Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

After yesterday's meeting in Undersecretary of State Lovett's office, the State department announced "no information concerning their substance will be made public until such time as decisions are reached."

It was understood, however, that the European nations will ask for a 50-year alliance—a point expected to cause something of an argument.

JURY BLAMES

accident a few minutes after it occurred. He saw the Johns car mount a roadside bank in a vain effort to avoid the skidding motorcycle.

Mr. Johns would not estimate the cycle's speed but said it was going "pretty fast" when it skidded out of control on the curve, zig-zagged on the highway and hit his car. He could not say which man was the driver. They were dressed much alike, he added. Johns told how he braked and drove off the road to avoid the collision. "I feel sure I had at least three wheels of my car off the road when I was hit," he said.

Private Ackerson described the accident scene as he found it and estimated the cycle had travelled 225 feet from the curve. Tillotson's body which was about 35 feet from the Johns car. The officer said he believes Johns' car was completely off the road when the crash occurred.

"Blank" On Accident
Ackerson quoted Tillotson as saying to him in the hospital November 24 "In all probability I was driving but I remember nothing of the accident. The officer said other parts of Tillotson's statement were confusing and included a reference to having driven through Gettysburg "three or four times at night" before the crash.

Tillotson said that what happened after he and Warmington left Harrisburg earlier that day is a "blank" in his mind. They had left their homes near Buffalo the evening before, he said, and as far as he can remember he had done all the driving to Harrisburg.

Witnesses were questioned by Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams county coroner and District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter. Richard A. Brown represented Tillotson.

Members of the jury were Hugh Craig, Rufus H. Bushman, Ivan Collins, Charles A. Beales, Walter L. Reynolds and Hugh C. McIlhenry.

MAROONS RALLY TO WIN FIRST CONTEST 27-24

Gettysburg high school's basketballers opened their cage season successfully here Friday evening by turning back a scrappy St. Francis Prep aggregation in a low scoring and loosely played contest, 27-24. One of the largest opening night crowds in a long time attended.

The Maroons' offense rested almost solely on Bill Eisenhart who hit the cords for six goals and two free throws.

Coach Forney's lads showed much room for improvement, particularly on the offense. Defensively the club looked good in spots.

Fall Behind

Leading 11-2 after more than 14 minutes had elapsed, the Maroons fell apart and the onrushing St. Francis aggregation swept into a short-lived 16-13 lead late in the third quarter.

Just four seconds after the opening whistle Eisenhart scored on a short shot after taking a pass from Doug Knox. Three minutes later Eisenhart looped a long shot and then St. Francis tallied on a free toss by Foster. Guy Donaldson's free toss ended the scoring for the initial period.

Gettysburg's scoring in the second period was confined to goals by Eisenhart and Bruce Westerdaal and free throws by Bill Bushman and Eisenhart. St. Francis also netted six points in the period on goals by Foster and Davidson and two charity tosses by Letizia to make the score 11-7 in favor of the Maroons at half time.

St. Francis swept into a 16-13 lead on a pair of goals each by Foster and Davidson late in the third quarter but a foul by Eisenhart and goal by Donaldson knotted the count at 16-16 at the end of the round.

After Davidson put his team in front with a foul to open the last stanza, Donaldson landed a short toss and Eisenhart came through with a pair. Fake netted a goal and Donaldson added a foul and Bushman looped a one-hander to send the Maroons ahead 25-19. Fake netted a foul and then Westerdaal hit the hoop for a goal. Fake landed two goals as time ran out.

Jayvees Win
The Maroon scrubs turned in an impressive first half performance when they led 25-10 and despite bogging down somewhat in the final half won easily 31-14.

Next Tuesday the York high varsity and junior varsity will play here with the first game getting underway at 6:45 o'clock.

Colts, Buffalo Bills Meet In Title Game

Baltimore, Dec. 11 (AP)—The even-Stephen situation between the Baltimore Colts and Buffalo Bills will be decided here tomorrow when they meet for the eastern title in the All-America Football conference.

The two teams ended their regular schedules here last Sunday all even. The Colts won 35-15 to reverse an early season 35-17 setback by the Bills and left the two eleven all squared away with seven victories and seven defeats apiece.

There is no chance of a tie tomorrow. In the event the teams are even at the end of the regulation game it will go into extra 15-minute periods with the first eleven scoring winning.

It will be the first eastern title for whichever team wins. The New York Yankees led the division the previous two years of the conference's existence.

The undefeated Cleveland Browns will be waiting to entertain either Baltimore or Buffalo for the conference championship next Sunday.

CHARLES BEATS BAKSI IN 11TH; MAY MEET LOUIS

New York, Dec. 11 (AP)—Who's going to fight Joe Louis in June?

Ezzard Charles isn't too sure he wants to meet the champion. He might if he was pushed, he said after he chopped up a rusty, plodding Joe Baksi and stopped him in the 11th round at Madison Square Garden last night.

You can cross off Baksi's name for sure and Billy Conn's too.

Which brings us back to Lee Savold, the old campaigner from Patterson, N. J., who lost on a foul to Bruce Westerdaal in London Monday, and Gus Lesnevich, the ex-light heavyweight titleholder.

Mix up Charles, Savold and Lesnevich in a couple of fights and you might possibly come up with an answer. Even Jersey Joe Walcott might get in the act again. Harry Markson, managing director of the 20th Century Sporting club, which promoted last night's show, is toying with the idea of a few more eliminations.

Pilot Is Jubilant

Markson said he was going to talk to Louis and the Brown Bomber's manager, Marshall Miles, in the next day or so to find out their plans. Then Markson, impressed by Charles' showing, said he was going to see Jake Mintz, Charles' manager.

"It's no use seeing Jake now," Markson said after the fight. "He's too excited right now."

Which was very much an understatement. The busy little ring pilot was popping all over the Garden, issuing statements, countering Charles' statements and then coming up with a couple more announcements moments later.

Charles had just told a herd of reporters that he wasn't anxious at all to meet Louis. It took lots of prodding to get him to discuss the champion, his old ring idol.

"I don't know about Louis," he said in his dressing room as he nursed his left wrist. Charles said he hurt the wrist in the third round.

Fears Louis Bout

"I'd have to be in better shape for the champion than I was for this fight. Then, too, you know how I feel about Louis. I rather not meet him. . . . Cause, after all, well, he's the champ, that's all."

Charles, who spotted Baksi 32½ pounds—178 to 210½—gave Baksi a good going over. He belted him with both hands throughout the fight and had him bleeding from the nose, mouth and a deep gash over his left eye.

"The Cincinnati Negro was a very good 1 to 3 choice over a slow-moving clay pigeon. He didn't do the ex-coal miner from Kulpmont, Pa., but he had the glory of stopping Baksi for the first time in the latter's career of 64 fights."

Baksi Hitters "Stop"

Referee Ruby Goldstein halted the bout at 2:33 of the 11th round when Baksi, blood streaming down his face from the gashed left eye, said: "Stop it, I can't see, I can't see."

Baksi won only two rounds—the fifth and sixth on body punching—on the AP's scorecard.

Charles and Baksi collected $9,000 apiece out of the $40,832 gross gate paid by 11,194 fans.

Louis picked up $7,492.55 for himself in Chicago (the crowd was 6,517 and the net gate $23,054) last night when he toyed with Conn in an exhibition six-rounder with 14-ounce gloves. Conn earned $5,187.15 for his third go, and probably his last, with the champ.

The boxing boys' comment on that one was "three strikes is out in any league, and that's all for Billy the Kid."

New York, Dec. 11 (AP)—Judging

by some of the scores in recent basketball upsets, the lads who make the Minneapolis "line" must have been hob-nobbing with those extraordinary optimists known as baseball magnates. . . . There probably never was a baseball man who didn't win the pennant between December and March, but seven out of eight clubs lose between April and September. . . . Bob Goode, the Texas Aggie back who was the Redskins first choice this year, punted 74 times during the 1948 season and got off 70 before he had one blocked.

HELD ON BAIL IN BRIBE CASE

Philadelphia, Dec. 11 (AP)—A pool-room operator was free in $1,500 bail today awaiting grand jury investigation of his alleged attempt to bribe basketball player Joe Pulks.

Morris (Moxie) Fleishman, 33, was charged with trying to fix games in the Basketball association of America.

Specifically he was held under a law which makes anyone guilty of a misdemeanor who "offers or gives to an agent, employee or servant of another x x x any valuable thing without the knowledge and consent of the employer x x x as an inducement, bribe or reward for doing or omitting to do any act."

QUOTE, UNQUOTE

Tim Mara, revealing that he plans to sell 10,000 reserved seats for tomorrow's Giants-Redskins game at $2 each: "Maybe they can afford two bucks instead of three. Anyway, I aim to find out."

WEAK END NOTES

The Rangers' purchase of Allan Stanley from Providence for Ed Kullman, Elwyn Morris, a wad of cash and other players to come, has been tabbed as a $60,000 or $70,000 deal. The biggest cash sale in National Hockey league history was when Toronto paid $35,000 for Frank Clancy. . . . It doesn't matter how big you make the figures as long as the cash doesn't change hands.

Sport Shorts

Miami, Fla., Dec. 11 (AP)—The field was reduced to 60 pros and 10 amateurs in the $10,000 Miami open golf tournament today with amateur Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., five strokes ahead of the pack.

The muscular Stranahan matched his 66 of opening day with a 35-31—66 yesterday for a halfway total of 132 over the 6,735-yard, par-70 Miami Springs course where this 25th annual event is being played.

Philadelphia, Dec. 11 (AP)—Oklahoma A. & M., a yearly competitor for the National Collegiate Basketball championship, opens an eastern tour here tonight against St. Joseph's college at Convention Hall.

Unbeaten Temple—winner of three straight—meets its first really stiff opposition in a veteran Mühlenberg quintet in the second game of a doubleheader.

Chicago, Dec. 11 (AP)—Michigan State's application for membership in the Western conference is scheduled for consideration today by the faculty committee as the annual big nine winter committee hits high gear.

Discussion of the Spartans' bid was expected to be among the first items on the faculty men's agenda but approach to the question was uncertain.

Election Worker Gets Jail Sentence

Harrisburg, Dec. 11 (AP)—A month's jail sentence was imposed upon a Harrisburg Republican poll watcher, charged with assault and battery in an election incident in the last April 27 primary.

The watcher, Charles Franklin V. Compton, Clean Elections Committee worker, in the chest in an altercation arising out of the bitter GOP

WHITE SOX ARE SEEKING NEGRO FROM DODGERS

Chicago, Dec. 11 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox for the first time may hire a negro baseball player, it was learned today.

As the frost-bitten baseball caravan moved from Minneapolis' minor league convention to the big league sessions in Chicago, reports circulated that the Sox were trying to buy Sam Jethroe, a negro outfielder, from Brooklyn's Montreal farm.

Frank Lane, Chicago's energetic general manager, talked with Branch Rickey, Dodger president, for several hours yesterday with Jethroe the chief topic of conversation. Lane, anxious to revivify the cellar Sox with youth, speed and hustle, and at the same time give the Sox fans a gate attraction, is eager to land Jethroe.

Wants $40,000

The only hindrance is the sales price. Rickey, who has his own ideas of the relative worth of his players, has set a fancy price on Jethroe. He is perfectly willing to give up the fleet-footed flycatcher, but for $40,000. Ironically, the Sox could have had Jethroe for nothing two years ago. They gave him a trial at Comiskey park two summers ago but he failed to impress.

Jethroe, 22, batting in the leadoff spot for the International league champion Royals last season, hit .322. Although he played in only 76 games, he was tied for the league lead in stolen bases with 18. Among his 94 hits were 12 doubles, 11 triples and one home run.

Rickey is trying hard to interest the White Sox in another negro player, pitcher Don Newcombe, but has been asking Rockefeller figures.

Newcombe, 25, led the International league pitchers with a won and lost record of 17-6. He hurled five shutouts for Montreal and hurled a no-run, no-hit game last season.

HELD ON BAIL IN BRIBE CASE

Philadelphia, Dec. 11 (AP)—A pool-room operator was free in $1,500 bail today awaiting grand jury investigation of his alleged attempt to bribe basketball player Joe Pulks.

Morris (Moxie) Fleishman, 33, was charged with trying to fix games in the Basketball association of America.

Specifically he was held under a law which makes anyone guilty of a misdemeanor who "offers or gives to an agent, employee or servant of another x x x any valuable thing without the knowledge and consent of the employer x x x as an inducement, bribe or reward for doing or omitting to do any act."

Pulks, scoring star of the Philadelphia Warriors, yesterday stood before Magistrate Fred Schwarz, Jr., and pointed out Fleishman as the man who offered him "easy money to throw games."

The six foot five inch Pulks declared that he rejected the bribe offer and reported it to team Coach Eddie Gottlieb immediately. Bernard L. Lemisch, counsel for Fleishman, argued that his client broke no law. He challenged the section of Pennsylvania penal code invoked in the case, declaring the law does not apply to professional basketball players. Maximum penalty upon conviction is a year in jail and a $500 fine.

6 Pennsylvanians On All-East Team

San Francisco, Dec. 11 (AP)—Six Pennsylvanians will be on the East team in the annual East-West Shrine football game New Year's Day.

The six will gather with the remainder of the East team at North-western December 20. The East will be coached by Bernie Bierman, Minnesota; Andy Kerr, Lebanon Valley, and "Tuss" McLaughry, Dartmouth.

Pennsylvanians are Bob Spornough and Delph Tekarczyk, University of Pennsylvania; John Finley, John Simon and Larry Cooney, Penn State, and William McPeck, Pittsburgh.

CITATION IS PICKED TO WIN $50,000 RACE

San Bruno, Calif., Dec. 11 (AP)—Today is the day and Citation is the horse.

The Calumet Farm's million dollar baby of the racetracks meets six Western Stakes stars in the $50,000-added Tanforan Handicap, and bettors are making him a 1 to 10 favorite.

Old timers of the turf said there isn't a horse, here or anywhere, past or present, "that can warm up Citation." But six hopefuls, with a weight advantage of six to 19 pounds apiece, were ready to try in the meet's feature race. (Post time, 4:50 p. m. P.D.T.) (6:50 p. m. E.S.T.)

This is the field for the mile and one quarter over a track that was drying into a fast strip: (With jockeys and weights, in order of their post positions)

May Win Million

Citation, the three-year-old "horse of the year," is after his 27th victory, and the purse would add $31,800 to his previous earnings of $833,250.

Already he is challenging the world's record set by Styrim—$911,335—and some say he can't fail to become the first thoroughbred to make a million.

He has also been nominated for the $100,000 Santa Anita Maturity while on the coast. And can anyone see how he could avoid winning that one, too, horse followers asked?

Tanforan President Eugene Mori said he would delay his decision on the type of wagering until 45 minutes before post time.

If all seven horses go to the post, as is indicated, it was possible that the usual win, place and show betting would be approved. When the Calumet comet ran in a five-horse prep last week betting was limited to win and place.

Today's Talk

SOMETHING TO DO

A very large number of people are unhappy and give themselves over-much to complaining, simply because they do not have something interesting to do. They may do many things, but because it's interesting things without a love for them. There are more worriers in this class that crowd out all worry.

None of us can have too many interests. Many of them may be hobbies, but they are sure to furnish refreshment to every other task. We need the in-betweens—those occupations that give a joy and relief to the more dutiful ones, or the ones that feed and clothe our bodies.

The child is happiest with a variety of plays. So is every human being who has grown up into the appreciation of the endless offerings of life. We are all healthiest and happiest with a variety of things to do, but always with something to do! Confusion and idleness are what age and destroy.

It's the unoccupied hours of every day that offer to us all such a glorious opportunity to improve our lot and make it a happier one. And, no matter how occupied are most of these hours, there are a few that still remain open. Just a single hour spent each day with an interesting book, at the close of each day, would change the way of life for many a one.

I have a friend who carries a small volume of Keats in his hip pocket and whenever he is alone and traveling, he takes it out and reads it. As a matter of fact he has it almost all committed to memory. There are few of us who could not read at least a book a week, if we put ourselves to the task—and imagine what that would do to one's power of conversation. One so informed would always be an interesting person to meet and with whom to talk.

Too few people travel and get about. Nothing broadens one as does travel—and you meet "so many interesting people." In the bargain, we can't know too much about our own country, or about the other countries of the world. We are actually One World in more ways than we realize. Always have something to do!

GOLFING PARSON DEPARTS

Now until the winter passes Back we've sent him to his classes,
Back to gracious living teaching,
Back to weddings; back to preaching.

Back to suppers and to dinners,
Back to full-time saving sinners.
Leaving golf, and us, behind him.
In his study now they'll find him.

Cold the winds and bleak the fairway,
Silent now the clubhouse stairway,
It is winter, and the grill room
Is a lonesome and a still room.

Golfing parson—spirit tender,
T'is with sadness we surrender
You once more unto your people
Gathered 'neath your holy steeple.

683,382 DID NOT VOTE FOR U.S. PRESIDENT

Washington, Dec. 11 (AP)—A total of 49,363,798 ballots were cast on November 2, but only 48,680,416 were marked for president.

That means at least 683,382 voters balloted for state, county and local candidates, but skipped making a choice for the highest office in the land.

The 48,680,416 total vote for president is the second highest in history. In 1940, the record year, it was 49,820,312. In 1944 it was 47,976,263.

The results became available with tabulation by The Associated Press of official totals from the 48 states.

The lesser attention given to the presidential race, in contrast with many state races, is explained by the fact that there were many strong candidates and hot contests for senate, governor and on down the line.

Electors Meet Monday

Sixteen states in all showed a greater aggregate vote than the total for president.

Presidential electors meet Monday in the state capitals to go through the formality of casting their votes. President Truman should get 304 from 28 states unless Tennessee gives one or two of hers to Gov. J. Strom Thurmond. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey will get 189 from 16 states, and Thurmond 38 from four, excluding that possible mix-up in Tennessee.

Truman's total vote was 24,104,836. Dewey received 21,969,500; Thurmond 1,169,312; Henry A. Wallace, Progressive, 1,157,100; Norman Thomas, Socialist, 132,138; Claude A. Watson, Prohibition, 103,343; Edward A. Teichert, Socialist-Labor, 27,921; Farrell Dobbs, Socialist workers, 13,007 and the rest scattered.

Truman won by a plurality of 2-135,336, but it was the first time since 1916 that a winner has failed to capture a majority of all votes cast. His percentage was 49.5. Dewey's was 45.1, and the others combined 5.4.

Ratio Is Smaller

Although this year total votes were nearly 1,400,000 above that of 1944, the number of potential voters—that is, people of voting age—had increased more than 10,000,000 in the past four years.

Thus the ratio of votes actually cast was much smaller, compared with the previous two elections. This was due primarily to a falling off of balloting in the big states.

Sixteen in all showed fewer votes than in 1944. Among these were New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois and Indiana.

The apathy some citizens showed toward the presidential race was evident not only in the 16 states where the number of ballots cast exceeded the vote for president.

In five other states, individual candidates for state offices ran ahead of Truman and Dewey even though the aggregate presidential vote was higher than that for any other office.

Errors In Break-In

They do not know it but I've been following some proud owners of new cars and feel that they are not going to be too happy about the behavior of their possessions after the break-in period. Many are driving entirely too slowly; others are putting their ears to too much hill work. I can tell by sudden stops in traffic that few operators realize that the brakes also need breaking in. Linings must be burnished by careful handling.

It is not realized that where cars have overdrive the engine runs 15 per cent slower than it would in conventional high. That also calls for adding another 150 miles to the break-in period. Care should be exercised when going into third from overdrive for here the engine may race. Many owners do not realize that they should never drive a new motor faster than 30 miles per hour until it has warmed up.

Too Clean For Comfort

Cleanliness is important, but where parts of a car are old it can be overdone. Classic example is using sludge remover in an old, dirty motor. The stuff is then stirred up from the bottom of the crankcase and sent into the oiling system where it may do real harm. Do a manual cleaning and then follow with solvent sludge removers.

And here's another one to illustrate the point:

One reader tells me that after he did a beautiful cleaning job on the oil-bath type of air cleaner he was amazed to find that the new oil he added leaked out the bottom of the container. Looking carefully he found two small holes which had been caused by corrosion. The grit and rust he had removed sealed the holes and kept the old oil in.

As Good As Ever

My friend and educator, Stanley Hendricks, tells me of a recent experience that speaks well for the value of old-fashioned tests. Noting a bad skip in the engine of his car he reached for a screw driver and began the customary business of shortening out the plugs. Suspicion pointed to plug number three, but not having a spare handy he drove down to a shop and decided to put the motor into the hands of someone better equipped for ignition diagnosis and repair. Picture Hendricks' reactions when the mechanic discarded two fancy plug testers in favor of the screwdriver method, coming up with the decision "Your number three plug is shot."

Mechanic Joe Speaking

"Two oddities that often occur in winter may surprise you but they are no reason to become alarmed. One is a higher reading of the motor temperature gauge; the other is a lower reading of the oil pressure gauge. You wouldn't normally expect either.

"What happens it that in cold weather an engine may run hotter if the motor thermostat valve is slow opening. Due to use of volatile antifreeze solutions there may be more loss of coolant into the overflow, and thus more heating.

"The lower oil pressure may be due to use of much lighter oil, combined with the overheating I have mentioned. The oil is especially likely to thin out when the car is put to hard work on the open road."

Either Extreme Bad

So much emphasis is placed on the importance of maintaining about an inch of free travel of the clutch pedal we tend to overlook completely the trouble that may follow if there is too much pedal travel before appropriate clutch action. Yet one extreme is as bad as the other. When the pedal travels too far the clutch won't fully disengage and there will be trouble shifting gears. The driver will be disturbed by excessive clashing and all that goes with this, including wear on the gears and just enough impatience to bring about some driving blunders.

Trouble In A Pinch

It may seem to be too fussy for serious consideration, but it certainly pays dividends to give tires new, or old, every consideration. The other night while pulling away from a restaurant I went into a deep hole at the edge of the road and observed that the rear end of the car went down with a thud. A short while later another driver pulled up alongside and announced that one of the rear tires was going flat. At the tire shop we found that the shoe, in squashing, had pinched the side of the tube.

Keeps It Dimming

Trouble with the dimmer switch may be caused by lack of drainage. This little switch, being exposed to road splash on the underside of the toeboard, may collect water and then rust out. In addition to drainage, however, the switch should be so positioned that any water that gets on the electrical points will drain off them. That calls for mounting the switch so that the points head downward. In making such changes one factory's bulletin on the subject warns against letting the wiring interfere with clutch pedal action.

Making Chains Pay

Because tire chains are used so infrequently it is natural that many drivers should forget some of the major rules for use when an occasion arises for this added protection. It is quite easy, for instance, to slip into the error of placing too much confidence in chains. A good rule to follow is to drive as carefully as you would without them. That really lets them provide a margin of safety.

Handling the brakes is most important, for if rear wheels are made to slide the cross chains may be spread apart sufficiently to allow bared areas of the tire tread to come into contact with the road. Let the wheels keep turning, dabbing the brake pedal to get fullest advantage from the slow-down. And watch out for side slipping. Worn chains especially have a runner effect if taken into a sharp, slippery turn too fast.

Useful To Know

When the battery is being fast charged it is well to remove the ground strap. This will obviate any possibility of damage to the car's electrical system.

A missing spark plug always makes an engine run ragged at lower speeds in high gear. Another clue is the fact that the roughness won't be accompanied by noise as in the case of a sticky valve.

If puzzled whether or not you need to use premium oils, bear in mind that they are chiefly designed for use where engines must develop more power over a longer period of time.

What's On Your Mind?

Q. The left front wheel of my car locks just about every time I apply the brakes. I have checked and find there is no grease on the lining. What would cause this? H. H. D.

A. This job apparently has an eccentric brake drum. In plain English, it's just warped.

Q. The starter gears on my car seem to be very slow disengaging. I am afraid that something serious will develop unless this is remedied soon. K. R., Jr.

A. At this time of year there's a good chance that the starter drive merely needs a new return spring. The present one is weak.

Q. This never happened before but the other day after switching off the ignition the engine kept running for several seconds. Have you ever had a report of such trouble? C. H. B.

A. This isn't so unusual, although it is rather uncommon in cold weather. The spark plugs became overheated, thus igniting the mixture and keeping the engine going without benefit of ignition. Evidently (Please Turn to Page 5)

FIRE DAMAGES CHICAGO HOTEL; NO FATALITIES

Chicago, Dec. 11 (AP)—Fire swept through the five-story, 208-room Hubbard Hotel in North Clark street early Friday, driving dozens of residents into the street.

Fire officials said there were no fatalities. One man was hospitalized after being overcome by smoke.

Flames shot more than 50 feet into the air as the fire spread rapidly through the brick hotel building at 417 North Clark street, across the Chicago river from the Loop.

Most of the guests fled when the flames were discovered but firemen helped carry some into the street. Hundreds of persons watched firemen fight the blaze in the below-freezing weather. The mercury was around 16 above.

Was A Landmark

Firemen fought the blaze for more than four hours before it was brought under control. About 50 residents who fled the 75-year-old hotel huddled in the nearby Chicago Avenue police station awaiting assignment to temporary housing.

Chief Fire Marshal Anthony J. Mullaney said the cause of the fire had not been determined. He said a blaze broke out in the hotel last night but "employees who tried to put it out didn't do a very good job."

Mullaney estimated damage to the six-story building, including stores on the ground floor, at more than $100,000. Mullaney said the hotel, formerly the Revere House and a landmark on the city's North Side, had been closed in May, 1947, because of violations of fire safety specifications.

New Oxford

New Oxford—Kenneth A. Yohe has returned to his home in this section after being among a deer hunting expedition in which he was successful in bagging an eight-point buck.

Mrs. Chester Gravatt, who left a few years ago after residing here, to make her home in the west, has been visiting many relatives and friends. Mrs. Gravatt, the former Miss Anna Staub, served for some time as organist at the local Catholic church.

Among honor students for the first quarter of the school term of the East Berlin junior high school is Edwin Stockham, this section.

Serious damage was averted on Tuesday afternoon at the building at the Square recently taken by Sleighter's Furniture store, when a blow torch being used in the basement during the installation of an additional radiator, set fire to insulation between the basement ceiling and the floor of the storeroom above. A considerable quantity of smoke filled the storeroom. Workmen succeeded in controlling the fire before an alarm was sounded.

Local young people are among those preparing to assist in sponsoring the Delone High School Alumni association's public dance Tuesday, December 28, from 9 to midnight at the auditorium of the Delone school, McSherrystown. Frank Taylor and his orchestra have been engaged to furnish music for the semi-formal affair.

Q. I have been having trouble with the clutch sticking. That is, occasionally I am unable to press the clutch pedal down. Does this indicate trouble with the release bearing? J. L. G.

A. Possibly, but it could also be due to a cracked or broken clutch plate.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern street, West Hartford, 7, Connecticut, and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.

HIGHWAY DEATHS UP

Harrisburg, Dec. 11 (AP)—Highway accidents in Pennsylvania brought death to 838 persons during the first 11 months of this year, a jump of 53 over the same period in 1947. A state police report said also rural fatalities in November totaled 79 against the 78 in November of last year.

SANTA and the SNOWMAN

BY LUCRECE HUDGINS

Chapter 6

THE STONE TREE

"I have 999 trees in my Valley," said the Tree Wizard. "Bring me one more and I will give you the pill to cure your twisted leg. But it must be a tree different and more remarkable still than any I now have."

What impossible order was this? For where could one find a tree more astonishing than the Wizard's Silver Tree whose branches blossomed with silver money instead of leaves? Or his Sleep-Time tree whose branches folded and curved to form a perfect bed covered with a down of leaves and shaded by orange blossoms? Or his Man Tree shaped so truly like a man that the birds never went near it and visitors talked to it thinking it alive?

"Oh, sir," said Danny. "Where shall we find a tree stranger than these?"

"That is up to you," replied the Wizard and he doffed his hat and went away.

The Snow Man grunted. "It's a queer business. All these funny looking trees make me dizzy."

"But—what are we to do?" cried Danny. "Where shall we even begin to look?"

The Snow Man put his round white arm around the boy's shoulder. "Come we will walk and surely we will somewhere find the tree we want."

So they left the Valley and walked and walked. I do not know how far they travelled but it was a great distance. They studied trees all day long and at night they slept on the ground with the Snow Man curled around Danny like an igloo.

Finally when they had about given up they came upon a tree which had turned to stone.

"Oh, this is it!" sang Danny with pleasure.

The Snow Man nodded thoughtfully as he studied the petrified tree—grey and cold and gloomy. "Yes, this might do. Certainly the Wizard had nothing like it in his valley."

So Danny ran to a nearby farmhouse and borrowed shovels and he and the Snow Man started digging up the tree.

Well, they dug for hours and hours and it seemed they would never uproot that tree. And, by and by, the Snow Man had to stop digging because he got so hot he was melting away!

So Danny dug on by himself. Every time he thought he couldn't dig another inch he would think of getting the pill to cure his crooked leg.

leg and then he would go right on digging.

After a long while the tree was uprooted and Danny yelled with delight. But he yelled too soon because the hardest part had yet to be done: They had to carry that tree back to the Valley of Wasoon.

Danny was too excited to rest and catch his breath. "Let's go!" he cried and using all his strength he lifted that stone tree to his shoulder. The Snow Man took up the other end and off they started.

I hate to have to tell you about the journey back. It was so awful. They staggered along under that load for days. Every few yards they would have to drop it to rest and each time they took it up again it seemed heavier than the time before.

The Snow Man kept losing weight and every time they stopped Danny had to build him up with new snow. But they kept on going and they got as far as the hill which sheltered Wasoon when the terrible thing happened.

They stood at the top of that hill and looked down at the valley and they were as happy as anybody anywhere. Suddenly Danny's strength gave out and at the same time a piece of the Snow Man's arm broke off. Instantly the stone tree fell off their shoulders and plunged down the hill behind them.

At the bottom of the hill was a vast lake and, while Danny and the Snow Man stood speechless, the tree ripped and roared down the hillside straight into the lake.

With an enormous splash it settled to the bottom never to be seen again.

York Springs

York Springs—Mrs. Elmer R. Nuenemker, wife of the local Methodist minister, has been recuperating at her home after her recent operation at the Warner hospital.

Mrs. Guillermo Barriga and daughters, Barbara and "Toni," who have been living here until arrangements could be completed for them to join the husband and father who is serving in the Colombian Navy, are now en route to South America where they plan to spend some time among Lt. Barriga's relatives and finally to make their home at the Cartagena Naval Base where he is stationed. Lt. and Mrs. Barriga and Barbara came here nearly two years ago when he was granted a leave for study in the U. S., and during their stay, their second daughter, Maria-Antonia, was born. Mrs. Barriga is the former Miss Virginia E. Hershey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Quincy W. Hershey.

The Rev. and Mrs. B. K. Mower, Hanover, formerly of this area, who have been spending some time with a son at Smith's Station, near Spring Grove, have returned home. The stay with the son was occasioned by Mrs. Mower's disability, the result of a fall some months ago, from which she is now improved.

The junior class of the local high school conducted a skating party during the week at the Forest Park rink, near Hanover.

The engagement of Miss Virgie R. Fernbaugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fernbaugh, Gardeners R. 1, to Blaine Eugene May, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Permal L. May, near here, was announced this week by Miss Fernbaugh's parents. The date of the coming marriage has not yet been decided.

Gary Keckler, a graduate of the last class of the local high school, has enlisted for a year's service in the Army Air Corps.

CHINESE REDS RETREAT FROM RELIEF GROUP

By SEYMOUR TOPPING
Nanking, Dec. 11 (AP)—Chinese Communists encircling the 12th Army Group gave ground on the south today before a spirited government column which is trying to open the jaws of the Red trap.

The relief column is from the Sixth Army Group. It is fighting north from the Hwai river line and its anchor of Pengpu, 105 miles northwest of Nanking.

In the battle for north China, however, Communist pressure continued, prompting authorities in Nanking to proclaim that the city was facing a critical situation. Citizens were told to prepare for an emergency as the army prepared an escape route.

Associated Press Correspondent Harold K. Mills reported from the front northwest of Nanking that the Sixth Army had won back a number of villages and now is fighting about 22 miles northwest of Pengpu.

3 Others Trapped
This would place the relief forces 22 miles southeast of the 12th, which had 110,000 combat troops when it first was trapped about three weeks ago. The 12th is fighting from strong natural positions.

There was no progress report on the three trapped army groups farther north. These groups, the Second, 13th and 16th, are trying to fight free of a second trap southwest of the abandoned base of Suhow.

Mills reported that the Sixth Group, unlike many government units, has high morale. It is supported by some tanks and artillery as it grinds slowly northward.

A threat to the Sixth's supply line to Nanking has been erased, a spokesman for the ministry of communications said.

The Reds had cut the railway between Pengpu and Nanking at four points, he said, but repairs were made quickly. He blamed the raids to "small Communist marauding bands."

There were no further reports on Communist attempts to cross the Hwai in greater force at the bend in the river 90 miles northwest of Nanking.

KING OPENS 13TH YEAR OF REIGN

London, Dec. 11 (AP)—King George VI entered the 13th year of his reign in poor health today, fulfilling royal functionings from his bed.

He acceded to the throne just a dozen years ago with the abdication of his brother, King Edward VIII. Edward gave up the crown and left England in order to marry American-born Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson. They became the Duke and Duchess of Windsor.

The King's troop was summoned to fire a salute 41 guns in Hyde Park at noon to mark the anniversary of George's accession. Word from Buckingham palace was that the royal family itself would hold no celebration. It has not been the custom.

The Duke and Duchess of Windsor were last reported taking the sun of the French Riviera.

The King, who developed leg trouble in foggy London last month, is being treated for a circulatory ailment. He has, however, received

Mrs. Edgar Wolfe read the second chapter of St. Luke and Mrs. Luther Myers offered prayer. The topic was, "God's Gift to Gladness," a Christmas lesson, and was in charge of Mrs. Myers. This lesson was divided into three groups. The first group opened with a carol, "Silent Night" and Mrs. Edwin Harget read the scripture; the second opened with the carol, "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing" and Mrs. George Cool read the scripture; the third group opened with the carol, "While Shepherds Watched their Flocks by Night" and Mrs. William Lippy read the scripture. Readings were then given on "Christmas and Customs in Many Lands." They were: "America," Mrs. J. Edgar Yealy; "China," Mrs. Harry O. Harner; "England," Mrs. Dale Starr; "Mexico," Mrs. Kenneth D. James; "Holland," Mrs. Leonard Kerchner; "Czechoslovakia," "Norway" and "Italy," Mrs. Luther Myers; "Poland," Mrs. Preston Myers; and "Sweden," Mrs. Malcolm Heiser. RADIO

New York, Dec. 11 (AP)—Ralph Edwards apparently is doing all he can to end his current hush series before Christmas if possible. It goes into its ninth broadcast in Truth of Consequences on NBC Saturday night.

He is increasing the clues and is taking no more entries after Saturday. The reason he gave was to "co-operate with the Postoffice department and ease the mail load during the Christmas season."

This week there will be no phone calls to listeners, but next Saturday the plan is to keep making them until a correct guess comes. Only in case that doesn't happen will there be a carry-over to a later date.

On Saturday night list: NBC—7:30 Vic Damone show; 8:30 Truth or Consequences; 9 Hit Parade; 9:30 Judy Canova; 10:30 Grand Ole Opry.

CBS—7:30 Vaughn Monroe show; 8 Swing It Again; 9 Winner Take All; 10 Hometown Reunion; 10:30 Military ball.

ABC—8 Starring Kay Starr; 8:30 Famous Jury Trials; 9 Gang Busters; 10:30 Hayloft Hoedown.

MBS—7 Hawaii Calls; 8 Twenty Questions; 8:30 Life Begins at 80.

Activities will be resumed at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The home will be open New Year's Eve until midnight, but will remain closed New Year's Day until 6 in the evening.

William Topper was appointed chairman of the Christmas decorating committee. The home will be decorated inside and outside. The post is planning a Christmas party for all its members. No definite plans have been made as yet. Francis Sanders is chairman of the party. The post donated $10 to the Rheumatic Fever drive and also $10 to the Christmas Fund for hospitalized veterans. The chairman of the membership committee notified all members that their 1949 dues are to be paid by December 31 if they wish to remain in good standing with the post. After the meeting a fried oyster supper was served by the American Legion auxiliary.

James Burket and son, of McKeesport, were recent visitors of P. F. Burket.

Grand Knight Charles F. Troxell and several members of the local Knights of Columbus attended the regular meeting and election of officers at the K. of C. home in Frederick on Monday evening.

2 Young Brothers Burned To Death

Williamsport, Pa., Dec. 11 (AP) — A house fire took the lives of two small boys the day before they were to be returned to their parents.

The victims were Jefferson Goings, 5, and his brother Bernard, 4.

South Williamsport Police Chief Alfred S. Kaufman said the two negro tots were alone in the house of their grandparents at the time of the fire yesterday. It levelled the six-room frame dwelling.

Kaufman said the grandparents had planned to return the children to Philadelphia today to join their parents who recently moved there.

Rococo, a term used to describe a type of European art which began early in the 18th Century, is derived from the French word, rocaillies, which designated artificial grottoes and rock arrangements of the gardens at Versailles.

XMAS SALES RECORDS DROP FOR 1ST TIME

By CHARLES MOLONY
Washington, Dec. 11 (AP) — Yule shoppers are on the verge of ending the Christmas sales records which have soared higher each year of the past decade.

With only 13 more gift-buying days to go, department store sales have dropped below last year's mark for the fifth straight week, the Federal Reserve Board reported last night. This is the longest consecutive decline since the war.

Some officials here said no longer can there be any doubt that price resistance and the living-cost squeeze, particularly on those in low income brackets, are playing a part in the downturn.

"Specials" blossoming out in store ads across the nation showed many merchants agreed with that view.

Inflation Losing Punch
Some storemen who earlier had anticipated continuation of "bigger and better" sales returns, now pin their hopes on a revival of prewar "last minute" shopping habits.

Although some people attributed the decline to unseasonable weather at the opening of the Christmas season, the FRB report showed the sales drop was nationwide, falling four per cent under the 1947 returns. The percentage decreases ranged from two per cent in the Boston area to eight per cent in San Francisco.

While the department store sales are still high—measured by anything but 1947 standards—their lowered showing took on added significance when matched with other signs that inflationary forces have lost a lot of their punch.

Real Estate Loans Slow
The sales downturn emphasized one high official's comment that "when housewives decide one night that prices are too high, they'll quit buying and inflation will be over the next day."

A sign that the same thing might go for businessmen was another Federal Reserve report showing that business loans also dropped the last three weeks of November.

Coupled with that was an even more unusual decline in real estate loans which, though slight ($1,000,000), halted a week-to-week climb to new highs that had been going on in this field since wartime.

Danger Not Past
Top official thinking, however, still was giving inflation the edge over deflationary forces, as indicated by the comment this week of Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, head of President Truman's Economic Advisory Council.

Nourse said that although there has been some "flattening out" in prices, there still is need for a stand-by anti-inflationary program which Mr. Truman asked him to draft last month.

close on Friday evening in the Centenary Methodist church, the Rev. Grantas E. Hooper, pastor. The Rev. C. B. Poulson, Harrisburg, evangelist for the Central Pennsylvania conference of the Methodist church, who had been guest preacher at these services since Monday night, preached the fifth sermon in the series on the theme, "Life's Great Decisions." Mrs. Verdie Strain presided at the organ.

Special music for the evening was furnished by Dale H. Roth, Good-year, who is supervisor of music in the York Springs schools, accompanied on the piano by his sister, Mrs. Earl E. Ecker, of Biglerville. Mr. Roth's first number was a tenor solo, "Open the Gates of the Temple" by Knapp. His second number was a trombone solo, "Jerusalem" by Parker. As an offertory, he played another trombone solo, "One Night when Sorry Burdened," by Smith.

Following the sermon by the Rev. Mr. Poulson, there was a Fellowship of Decision in charge of the pastor. The congregation sang, "Take My Life and Let it Be," when the decision cards were gathered. The Rev. John Baxter Howes, professor of Rural Church at the Westminster seminary, who was the guest minister last Friday night was present and offered the dedicatory prayer. The fellowship then closed with a tenor solo, "Like as a Father," by Scott, which was sung by Mr. Roth. The Rev. Mr. Poulson brought this mission series to a close with the benediction. Throughout the two weeks, the attendance was very good.

To Hear Grand Treasurer
Announcement was made at the meeting of Littlestown Aerie No. 2226, Fraternal Order of Eagles, on Thursday evening, that William Wetherald, Zanesville, Ohio, who is grand treasurer of the order will be present at the regular meeting of the local aerie on Thursday, December 16, and give an address on "Eagle Objectives and Accomplishments." He is a former mayor of Zanesville and is past president of the Ohio aerie and a former member of the Eagles Board of Grand Trustees.

Supervising principal, Paul E. King has announced that the annual Littlestown high school alumni basketball games and dance will be held Thursday, December 23, beginning at 7:15 p. m. in the high school gym.

Mr. King stated that the games will be played according to the eligibility rules which were established at the beginning of this event. They are: (1) Players must be graduates of the high school; (2) players must have graduated within a period not in excess of three years. All alumni interested in participating as a team are requested to contact Miss Lydia Sentz, who will manage the girls' team.

Immediately following the games, there will be a dance. An orchestra will be on hand and a short program will be held during the intermission. There is a three-fold purpose to this alumni event, namely, to enable the alumni to renew former ties; to enable the alumni to meet the present faculty, and to enable the alumni to become acquainted with the present student body.

50 Have Blood Typed
Approximately 50 residents of the community took advantage of the blood typing program which was conducted Thursday evening at the post home of the Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion, by technicians from the Warner hospital. A short meeting of the post was held after the blood typing program, with Commander Clarence J. Krichen, Sr., in charge. Bids have been asked for the contemplated new post home on Charles street. These bids will be opened at a meeting of the building committee at the post home on Wednesday evening, December 15. Clarence J. Krichen, Sr., is chairman of the building committee.

Wayne Arnold, chairman of the community, which is arranging for the New Year's Eve party at the post home reported on the progress of plans. He stated that cards will be mailed to all members with complete details. He also stated that a door prize will be given at the party.

The next meeting of the post will be held Thursday, December 23, at 7:30 p. m.

1939 PONTIAC 6 2-DR. Sedan, mechanically perfect, original black finish, very clean inside and out. Equipped with radio, heater, spotlight, fog lights and many other extras. A beautiful car and a steal at $785.00.

1938 CHEVROLET 4-DR. Sedan. A sweet running little car that shows the excellent care it has had. Very good upholstery, paint and tires. Has heater, sealed beam and fog lights. Not a better buy in town at $595.00.

1939 MERCURY COACH, radio and heater. Runs like a top. I drove this car 600 miles myself last week on a hunting trip. (Ask the boys who were along about it.) Originally owned by a lady. Compare this car and price at $635.00.

1941 PONTIAC STREAM-Liner Sedanette, radio and heater. Looks and performs very nice. For good reliable transportation, this is it. Can be yours for the unheard of price of $975.
